POSTER PRESENTATION ON FIBONACCI SERIES

Description of the programme:

The department of Mathematics was organised Poster Presentation on Fibonacci Series on 23rd November 2022. This event is conducted for 2nd and 3rd year degree students on the occasion of Fibonacci day. Students are actively participated in this event.

Date: 23-11-2022

Number of students participated: 28

Gist of the Programme:

This programme is conducted for the second and final year students on the occasion of Fibonacci day. November 23rd is celebrated as Fibonacci day because that date formation represents a Fibonacci sequence. Students were actively participated in the poster presentation. They have exhibited the background details of Fibonacci, its origin, definition and its nature. They have also showed us many beautiful flowers that have in them the Fibonacci sequence. All students were thrilled to see the use of golden spiral in the master piece painting of Monalisa. Our head of the department was the judge of this event. All the winners were awarded prizes. This competition is highly informative.

Objectives of the Programme:

- 1. The prevalent occurrence of the Fibonacci sequence in nature allows students to see and discover for themselves the presence of mathematics in the environment they live.
- 2. To gain an appreciation and understanding of the world in which we live and how everything is connected.

Prize Winners:

First Prize	: D.Praveen
Second Prize	:1. Y.Deepika
	:2. G.Jaya keerthana
Third Prize:	:1. K.Prathyusha
	2. M.Vasundara
